

A diagram on a white background. A thick red arrow points horizontally from the left edge towards the center. A black arrow points diagonally downwards from the top edge towards the right. The two arrows are oriented towards a common point in the center-right area of the image.

$\mathbf{k}, \omega(\mathbf{k})$